THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SOCIETY FOR VOCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY: A SECTION OF THE SOCIETY OF COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY (DIVISION 17) OF THE AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

Volume XX, Number 2

Summer, 2013

Message from the Chair Dr. Susan C. Whiston

Greetings to all SVP members! I hope that your summer is off to a good start. As I write this column, I am preparing to go to the Life Design and Career Counseling: Building Hope and Resilience conference in Padova, Italy. This is an exciting conference and many SVP members will be presenting; also, SVP is one of the scientific partners sponsoring this international conference.

The SVP Executive Board is busy finalizing our plans for the 2013 American Psychological Association convention that will be held July 31st through August 4th in Honolulu. The first SVP event is our annual Conversation Hour, which will feature the accomplished Ruth Fassinger. The SVP Conversation Hour will be held on Wednesday, July 31st from 11:00 to noon at the Waikiki Beach Marriott Resort & Spa in Salon 2. Also, please plan on attending the SVP Business Meeting, which is scheduled for Thursday, August 1st from 9:00 to 10:50 at the Waikiki Beach Marriott Resort & Spa in Salon C. During this business meeting, I will be presenting two Society for Vocational Psychology 2013 Graduate Student Awards, which were won by Aaron Miller from Southern Illinois University and Terrance Walker from Arizona State University. We also will be announcing the SVP Distinguished Achievement Award, which will be awarded to the esteemed David Blustein. In addition, we will honor Ryan Duffy who is the recipient of the SVP Early Career Award. Please join me in congratulating all of these accomplished scholars.

Saturday, August 3rd also promises to be a busy day for SVP activities at APA. Starting early in the morning (i.e., 8:00 am) is the SVP symposium entitled “Grand Challenges in Vocational Psychology—Examining Practice, Research, and Training,” which will be in Room 309 of the Convention Center. The first paper, “The Practice of Vocational Psychology: Grand Challenges for the 21st Century,” will be presented by Jeffrey P. Prince and Abby J. Bjornsen. The presenters of the second paper are Neeta Kantamneni and Susan C. Whiston and it is entitled “Grand Challenges in Vocational Psychology: Examining Research”. The final paper is titled “Grand Challenges in Vocational Psychology Training” and the presenters are Cindy L. Juntunen and Erin L. Martin. The discussant for this excellent symposium will be Saba R. Ali. At noon on Saturday, please plan on joining other SVP members and students in a reception that will feature student posters. While you are enjoying interacting with student scholars, you can also enjoy food and drinks at the reception, which will be held at the Waikiki Beach Marriott Resort & Spa in Salon 1. As I hope you can see, there are many exciting SVP events scheduled for APA and I hope you can attend many of these events.

In addition to the APA events described above, there are numerous other symposia, presentations, and poster sessions presented by SVP members. Some of these presentations are listed later in this newsletter. Please check out the full APA convention schedule, which is now online in order to attend these important presentations.

A joint project between the Society for Vocational Psychology and the National Career Development Association has recently come to fruition. This joint project resulted in a white paper entitled The Impact of Career Interventions: Preparing our Citizens for 21st Century Jobs written by myself and David Blustein with the assistance of Scott Solberg and Julia Porter.

The paper overviews the effectiveness of career interventions and it is designed to be shared with policy makers and other constituents. This paper was prepared in part to recognize NCDA’s 100th Anniversary and will be distributed to both SVP and NCDA members.

Initial planning for the next SVP conference to be held in Coimbra, Portugal has begun. The conference is tentatively scheduled to begin with a reception for SVP members on the evening of July 14, 2014. The conference will then take place on July 15th and 16th. Coimbra is a charming town in Portugal and I would encourage all SVP members to start saving for this memorable conference.

The SVP Executive Board is open to new initiatives and projects so please send any suggestions or feedback to me at swhiston@indiana.edu. I look forward to hearing from you and have a wonderful summer!

You can join by simply sending an email to the listserv administrator, Bill Stilwell, at westil3@pop.uky.edu.

Message from SVP Student Representatives

*Brian Stevenson
and
Sarah C. Michalos-Rispinto*

Greetings to all Society for Vocational Psychology members! As your graduate student representatives, nothing makes us happier than to see graduate students getting involved in SVP activities! We would like to commend the many graduate students who have taken the extra step to participate in SVP related activities.

It is great to see so many graduate students participating in the SVP student poster session for the upcoming APA Hawaii convention! We encourage everyone, professional and student alike, to stop by the SVP student poster session while in Honolulu to check out the latest research being done by the SVP graduate students. It is also wonderful to see all of the sophisticated and cutting-edge vocational research that SVP graduate students submitted for the SVP graduate student research awards. Indeed, SVP graduate students are making a big impact in the field through their numerous research endeavors!

We would also like to congratulate, Colleen McCarthy on her appointment as the newest SVP student representative to the executive board! Colleen is currently a graduate student in counseling psychology at the University of Oregon, and has a strong background in vocational psychology and career development. On behalf of the entire board, we welcome Colleen and say 'thank you' for your dedication to the field!

Lastly, our push to increase graduate student membership in SVP has definitely not ended! This upcoming fall, your student representatives will be sending out recruitment announcements to DCT's of counseling psychology programs all across the country! If you know of any graduate students interested in vocational or career-related psychology, please encourage them to join our society! If you are a current graduate student reading this newsletter, and you are not a member of SVP, don't wait any longer to join!

Forthcoming Conferences

International Conference on Career Counseling and Counseling Psychology Montpellier, FRANCE September 24-27, 2013

The next International Conference of career counseling, counseling psychology and guidance organized by the IAEVG - International Association for Educational and Vocational Guidance - and the ACOP - France will take place from September 24 to 27, 2013 in France, in the heart of Montpellier, with the theme:

“Career counseling: a human or a citizen’s right?”

The rich program features

Keynote speakers from an international level: Mark Savickas (USA), Jean Guichard (France), Peter Plant (Denmark) and Jean-Claude Michéa (France).

Relevant symposia and Seminars: a Social Justice and Career Counseling seminar, a symposium on Ethics in Counseling, and the first European IAEVG members group seminar.

Exciting events: We will celebrate the 60th anniversary of the first IAEVG seminar which was held in 1953 in Italy, with a surprise show, as well as some musical moments that will be shared during the conference.

While the program is nearly complete, it may be possible to include a few more papers, but hurry as we are finalizing everything soon.

Normal registration is until June 15, however we are aware that since this information will arrive late, for members of SVP we will accept normal fees until August 15.

If you are interested, do not worry if it is after the normal registration deadline (June 15). The amount posted on our website will be automatically the highest price. Therefore, when you make your registration online in “Establishment or Organization” add: “/ SVP and your membership number.” We will accept normal fees from each SVP member until August 15.

Please book your accommodation as early as you can. Montpellier is a city where many conferences and events are organized, especially in September.

For more information see the conference Website, now online: <http://ciom2013.ac-montpellier.fr/>

The website will be updated regularly. We encourage you to consult it periodically to inform yourself about the committee’s continuing work.

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Montpellier

Happy Birthday SVP!!!

August 2013 is the 25th anniversary of the Society for Vocational Psychology. Fourteen individuals met at the 1988 APA conference to found the Vocational Behavior and Career Intervention SIG (renamed SVP 9 year later). Within six months the SIG had 112 members. The SIG was part of Leo Goldman's initiative as President of Division 17. Dr. Goldman envisioned a group of ISGs as a way of making new professionals feel welcome in Division 17 by providing space for them to interact with colleagues on topics of their interest. Goldman invited Ed Watkins to recruit chairs to establish a set of SIGs. Watkins assigned Mark Savickas the task of organizing a career SIG. A core group of vocational psychologists met and accepted the name for the SIG that was proposed by Arnie Spokane. Among the first members, a core group was especially active that first year: Linda Subich, Nadya Fouad, Judy Chartrand, David Blustein, Arnie Spokane, and Tom Kreishok. The original goal of the SIG was to reinvigorate career counseling within Division 17.

SVP Member Donna Schultheiss is now the Associate Dean of the College of Graduate Studies at Cleveland State University. Congratulations Donna!

The American Council on Education (ACE), announced today that Paul Gore, Associate Professor of Educational Psychology and Director of Institutional Analysis has been named an ACE Fellow for academic year 2013-14. The ACE Fellows Program is designed to strengthen institutions and leadership in American higher education by identifying and preparing promising senior faculty and administrators for responsible positions in college and university administration.

APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

The IAAP Counseling Psychology Division (16) Executive Committee, led by Jean Guichard from INETOP, has been working closely with the program committee for the 2014 IAAP Congress in Paris. We have successfully nominated a few transversal speakers (e.g., Barry Chung) and recruited our five candidates for Divisional Invited Addresses.

New Student Representative to the SVP Executive Board

Colleen McCarthy is a second year doctoral student in the Counseling Psychology Program at the University of Oregon. Her background includes the dissemination of career development and career counseling services to college students at both UT Austin, where she served as a career coach at the UT Austin Liberal Arts Career Center, and the University of Oregon, where she serves as a career counselor at the Career Center. During her first year in the latter position she contributed to the development and implementation of several new career services and programs designed to reach out to more students. Colleen has co-authored a book chapter, a journal article, and several peer-reviewed conference presentations (including an international presentation) that included investigations of job satisfaction, job turnover, job stress and coping, and multicultural competence with teachers. Colleen is passionate about using career counseling as a gateway to services for ethnic minority college students, and examining what processes career counselors can use to facilitate students' access to and utilization of a broader range of academic and health services. We welcome Colleen to the SVP Executive Board.

The University of Buenos Aires, upon recommendation of the Faculty of Psychology, has named Professor Jean Guichard a Doctor Honoris Causa in recognition of his excellent research on construction of the self, social cognition, future time perspective, and career development. In conferring the honorary doctorate, Rector Rubín Eduardo Hallu cited Professor Guichard's exemplary career at the University of Lille and at the Sorbonne in France as well as his role as an Invited Professor at the University of Wrocław in Poland. The Rector particularly highlighted Professor Guichard's outstanding work during his years as Director of the National Institute for the Study of Work and Career Counseling at the National Conservatory of Applied Psychology in Paris, France. Professor Guichard had previously received honorary doctorates from University of East Finland and University of Lisbon in Portugal. Professor Guichard currently serves as a Class Exceptional University Professor in Psychology at the National Conservatory of Applied Psychology (CNAM), France. He is also Treasurer for the Counseling Psychology Division (16) in IAAP.
