

THE LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT IN MENTORING AWARD

The Lifetime Achievement in Mentoring Award acknowledges career contributions to Counseling Psychology via excellence in mentoring. This award is for professionals who have provided mentoring throughout their careers. The award and its associated monetary prize is voted annually by the Society/Division 17 Executive Board at its mid-year meeting. Announcement of the Award winner is made at the annual APA convention. The procedures to be followed in the nomination of candidates, selection of an Award winner, and presentation of the Award are detailed below.

CRITERIA:

1. The Lifetime Achievement in Mentoring Award acknowledges career contributions to Counseling Psychology via excellence in mentoring. Recipients of this Award must have made long-term contributions to counseling psychology via their mentoring activities of others working in the field of counseling psychology. These contributions could be in a variety of areas, including science, practice, leadership and administration, teaching and training, and/or recognition of excellence.
2. This award is for senior-level professionals who have received their doctorate degree at least 20 years prior to receiving the Award. Current members of the Society/Division 17 Executive Board are not eligible during their term of office.
3. While there is no requirement that a nominated individual be engaged in mentoring activities for any specific number of years, the award's emphasis on "Lifetime Achievement" indicates that nominated individuals will have demonstrated a commitment to mentoring activities during an extended length of time (e.g., 15+ years).
4. The Award should be given to persons whose principal professional identification is as a Counseling Psychologist and are members of the Society/Division 17.
5. Though the Award ordinarily will be voted annually, the Executive Board may elect not to make an Award in any given year.

PROCEDURES:

1. A call for nominations for the The Lifetime Achievement in Mentoring Award will appear in the Fall issue of the Society/Division 17 Newsletter or the currently used publication medium.
2. Nominations for the Award are to be in the form of a letter (from self or other) that makes the nomination and discusses the significance of the nominee's mentoring contributions and achievements to Counseling Psychology. In total, packets should include no more than three supporting letters, one of which should be the letter of nomination (from self or other) and no more than two additional letters of support from psychologists; all letters should directly address how the nominee meets the specific criteria for the award; (b) a copy of the nominee's vita.

3. The Chair of the Awards and Recognition Committee (or the Chair's designee) will be responsible for collecting nominations and for obtaining evaluations of the nominations from the Committee. Each reviewer will rate and then rank the nominee and send both ratings and rankings to the Chair (or the Chair's designee) who will then compute mean ratings. Based on these mean ratings the Chair will submit a rank ordered list of nominees to the Society/Division 17 Executive Board prior to the mid-year meeting of that group.
4. Election of the Award winner will be decided by written or verbal ballot at the mid-year meeting by majority vote of the voting members of the Executive Board of Society/Division 17 who are present. The Award winner will be notified by the President following this mid-year meeting but no public announcement of the winner will be made until the Society/Division's business meeting at the APA Convention.
5. The Chair of the Awards and Recognition Committee will provide the winner's name and contact information, social security number, and the name of the award won to the Society/Division 17 treasurer by June 1st. The treasurer will prepare the check and give it to the Society/Division 17 President for presentation at the Annual Business Meeting in August.
6. After the APA Convention, an announcement of the winner will be published in the fall issue of the Society/Division 17 Newsletter or currently used publication medium, and The Counseling Psychologist.
